Highlights From the September Meeting

The September meeting was an open forum round table discussion.

Our club representatives at the International Woodworking Fair in Atlanta, Val Tuck, Spencer Cullen, and Austin Tatum gave us a great rundown on the event. Some of the highlights: overall the crowd was down from prior years, Spencer saw a large piece of machinery named Bob that can make 250 doors a day and it only costs $58,500, the Grizzly company was not there, lots of veneer, Steele City had a lot of their Granite-topped tools. Val attended a seminar on finishing and gave us a great summary of the information he obtained.

Val Tuck explains his chair repair.

Anyone who knows Val Tuck, knows he is not afraid to take on a difficult job. For show and tell he demonstrated an amazing feat of repair he recently performed on a chair back. The previous figured center portion of the back had cracked. So Val separated some joints, removed the broken piece, made a copy, and then reassembled it with the new piece. To put it in perspective, besides being intricately shaped, the piece is also curved. Amazing work, Val.
